

AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION DEPARTMENT
OF THE STATE OF WYOMING AND THE NEVADA INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION
OF THE STATE OF NEVADA REGARDING EXTRATERRITORIAL RECIPROCITY

WHEREAS, the Workmen's Compensation Law of the State of Wyoming authorizes the Workmen's Compensation Department to enter into agreements of reciprocity for workmen's compensation purposes with other states, and

WHEREAS, the Workmen's Compensation Law of the State of Nevada authorizes the Nevada Industrial Commission to enter into agreements of reciprocity for workmen's compensation purposes with other states, and

WHEREAS, employers who conduct operations in the State of Wyoming are required on occasion to have Wyoming workmen perform services in the State of Nevada, and

WHEREAS, employers who conduct operations in the State of Nevada are required on occasion to have Nevada workmen perform services in the State of Wyoming, and

WHEREAS, the Workmen's Compensation Department of the State of Wyoming and the Nevada Industrial Commission of the State of Nevada are desirous of entering into an agreement whereby the employers and workmen of each of the respective states may continue to be entitled to the protection and benefits provided by the Workmen's Compensation Laws of their respective home states,

IT IS HEREBY AGREED That for the purpose of this agreement of reciprocity, a Wyoming workman is a person hired to work in the State of Wyoming, and a Nevada workman is a person hired to work in the State of Nevada.

IT IS FURTHER AGREED BETWEEN the Workmen's Compensation Department of the State of Wyoming and the Nevada Industrial Commission of the State of Nevada:

That the Workmen's Compensation Department of the State of Wyoming in keeping with the provisions of the Wyoming Workmen's Compensation Law will provide protection for any Wyoming employer under its jurisdiction and benefits to any of his Wyoming workmen who may be injured in the course of employment while working temporarily in the State of Nevada. In the event of injury to one of these workmen, his exclusive remedy would be that provided by the Workmen's Compensation Law of the State of Wyoming.

RECEIVED

APR 2 1970

NEVADA INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

That the Nevada Industrial Commission of the State of Nevada in keeping with the provisions of the Nevada Workmen's Compensation Law will provide protection for any Nevada employer under its jurisdiction, and benefits to any of his Nevada workmen who may be injured in the course of employment while working temporarily in the State of Wyoming. In the event of injury to one of these workmen, his exclusive remedy would be that provided by the Workmen's Compensation Law of the State of Nevada,

That the Workmen's Compensation Department of the State of Wyoming will upon request and on behalf of the Wyoming employer issue a certificate of extraterritorial coverage to the Nevada Industrial Commission of the State of Nevada, and that the Nevada Industrial Commission of the State of Nevada will upon request and on behalf of the Nevada employer issue a certificate of extraterritorial coverage to the Workmen's Compensation Department of the State of Wyoming.

That these certificates of extraterritorial coverage shall be issued, or cancelled, at the discretion of the Wyoming Workmen's Compensation Department or the Nevada Industrial Commission.

That the Nevada employer while performing work in the State of Wyoming will be subject to the safety codes of the State of Wyoming, and that the Wyoming employer while performing work in the State of Nevada will be subject to the safety codes of the State of Nevada.

IT IS MUTUALLY UNDERSTOOD That this agreement will not apply to Nevada workmen of the Wyoming employer working in the State of Nevada, nor to the Wyoming workmen of the Nevada employer working in the State of Wyoming.

IT IS ALSO MUTUALLY UNDERSTOOD That premium payments on the out-of-state earnings of Wyoming workmen will be made to the Wyoming Workmen's Compensation Department and that premium payments on the out-of-state earnings of Nevada workmen will be made to the Nevada Industrial Commission of the State of Nevada.

IT IS FURTHER AGREED That this agreement of extraterritorial reciprocity shall become effective April 1, 1970, and further that this agreement shall remain in full force and effect until superseded or modified by the parties to this agreement.

Signed this 30th day of March, 1970, at Carson City, Nevada.
